Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen - Hebrews 11:1

HOPE

The confident & joyful expectation of the future changes that God has promised which are not yet seen, but which the Christian strongly desires and for which he/she eagerly awaits, based on who God is, and as seen in what he says, promises and has already done.

FAITH

The steps we take on the journey towards fulfilling that hope.

“And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.” - 1 Corinthians 13:13

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen - Hebrews 11:1

Not only so, but we also glory in our sufferings, because we know that suffering produces perseverance; perseverance, character; and character, hope. - Romans 5:3-4

“And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.” - 1 Corinthians 13:13

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen - Hebrews 11:1

Not only so, but we also glory in our sufferings, because we know that suffering produces perseverance; perseverance, character; and character, hope. - Romans 5:3-4

Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God - Hebrews 12:2

A Prophetic Hope

- Hope in our individual lives
- Hope for one another
- A prophetic voice of hope into the community around us
- Corporate hope for the growth and development of our church

The background of the image is a detailed view of a mechanical watch movement, showing various gears, jewels, and components. A semi-transparent yellow rectangular overlay covers the entire image, serving as a background for the text. The text is written in a bold, dark blue font.

“Fear is a wolf on a chain, only dangerous when you set it free. Sorrow exhausts itself in the net of forgetting. Anger, for all its fury, can be killed by a smile. Only hope goes on forever, because hope doesn’t belong to us: it belongs to our ancestors, the first of our kind, whose brave love for one another gave us most of the good that we are.

And hope, that ancient seed, redeems the heart it feeds. The heart-beat of any conscious now is poised on the same choice that hope gives all of us, between shadows of the past and the bright, blank page of any new day.” - Shantaram

Jesus is our vision and our hope.
He calls each one of us to partner with Him.
We are Hope Community Church.
A place of refuge for the broken, hurting and lost.
A place for all to be reprocessed,
renewed and transformed.
A place of love, joy and peace.
We are to carry His hope to the least, the last and the lost . . .
